

08 beneficial dialogue with EU

09 BA-2, Paper-4, Unit-8

10 Foreign Policy of China

11 Main characteristics of China's Foreign Policy -

12 The basic objectives of the policy center 13 on safeguarding national independence and 14 state sovereignty and creating an interna-15 tional environment favorable to its reform, 16 opening and modernization as well as maintaining world peace and promoting common development. The policy is based on the following main efforts -

- 17- Maintaining independence.
- 18- Maintaining world peace
- 19- Friendly relations and cooperation
- 20- Good-neighbourly and friendly relations
- 21- Enhanced unity and cooperation with developing countries.
- 22- Develop political potential in international Organizations.
- 23- Stress on the centrality of diplomatic ties instead of armed struggle.
- 24- Redefinition of 'Self-reliance'
- 25- Decrease as a model for development
- 26- Revival efforts toward regional leadership

08 China's foreign policy toward third world especially Pakistan and her 09 neighbour countries has established a stable political environment and promoting 10 economic development, China extended participation in the international economy 11 and willing to contribute to stability and cooperation in Asia.

12 Determinants of China's Foreign Policy -

13 1 - Independence from any big power or 14 block or pressure from any big nation.

15 2 - The development of relations with all countries on the basis of Five Principles of 16 Peaceful Coexistence.

3 - Oppose hegemonism

17 4 - To strengthen unity with third world.

18 5 - The open door policy of economic flexibility.

